Hurrah! No More Shirts or Collars!

Report from Germany has it that man at last comes in for his own, and that the shirt and collar are to be given the hook.

All ball the movement for reform in men's dress!

If it goes through, shirts and collars will no longer be necessary.

So, all, everybody—that is, except landowners. The towels in the word will be changed for them.

Buttless are interested today in the report that comes from Berlin that a movement has been launched in Germany for the purpose of taking men to leave off coats, trousers, waistcoats, shirts, suspenders, collars, neckties and hats. In fact, if the movement is successful not only will the laundries have to go out of business, but the only ones the haberdashers will carry will be unmentionables and socks.

For work and business wear the advocates of this movement think that men should wear smocks or blouses, and for evening wear they should adopt knee breeches and jackets that button high at the neck, falling to show the shirts and collars that are not there.

As to hats—why no hats at all. What's the use of hats, anyway? It is the fact that men and women, dressed in their wives with war cloths, should wear a top hat or a golf cap. He wears the hat he wears with the most of it. But the reformers are willing to make some concessions to fashion—they would allow the men to wear straw hats in winter.

Also, they contend that each man should design his own clothes. That will make a walk along Boston street at night or an hour at the Stock Exchange more entertaining. The aim of the reformers is "comfort, beauty and aesthetics."

TRACE RECORD OF CYANIDE VICTIM

The Boston police investigating the death from cyanide poisoning of Fred E. Whittier, who was taken in to the room of William Litchfield, at the Hotel Nevada, today continued their attempt to find where the fatal dose was bought.

Three days of work, covering Boston drug stores, has failed to find any record of a sale to a man answering Whittier's description.

The police, however, have succeeded in unearthing something of Whittier's record, in their attempt to solve the mystery, and to discover whether the man committed suicide or was murdered as was Aime Lincoln, by being given the drug with some false story to induce him to take it.

They have found that he was born in Cape Elizabeth, Me., August 13, 1888, and that in 1910 he was taken from a Boston child's home by Mr. and Mrs. J. Francis Woodbury of Boston. Whittier had been left at the home by his mother, according to the records.

The police planned today to see the Woodburys and find something of the boy's life with them.

Whittier was last employed as a waiter in Frank Ritter's restaurant on Broadway, South Boston. He was hired one trial, but was discharged after two weeks. Ritter said that Whittier's death, and identified the body at the morgue. He said the man was a drug friend, and that he once saw him drink a quantity of medicine.

Faneuil Hall Hears "Ethical Bridegroom" Flay His Neighbors

Edmond Trowbridge Dana of Cambridge, grandson of the poet Longfellow, Socialist candidate for Senator, and husband of Mrs. Jessie Hollister Dana, whom he wed four months ago under unique circumstances and who has now sailed away to England for the winter, delivered a supposedly political speech at a Faneuil Hall Socialist rally, last night, to criticizing his Cambridge neighbors.

"The standards of the people with whom I have mixed daily are utterly abhorrent to me," was one of his statements.

Before Mrs. Dana sailed for England, to recover from the effects of a forty day fast which featured her honeymoon, and issued a lengthy statement caustically criticizing the "people" of her neighbors, who saw, she said in her leaving her husband, a story was told.

Dana's remarks in Faneuil Hall were not at all political in nature. They consisted of attacking various districts against the conventions of modern society life, and were greeted with applause. So great was his enthusiasm that he continued to pour out on the political side of the question, even as far as to announce that he is a candidate for Senator.

POLITICAL NEWS

Vote for Wilson, Foss
Walsh and Other
Democratic Candidates

The next big saloon and anti-saloon fight in the Massachusetts Legislature will come next winter on a proposition to keep saloons closed in the morning until 8 o'clock.

This is how United States Senator W. Murray Crane sees it. "It looks as if Massachusetts will be carried for President Taft. It also looks as if the State will be carried for the Republican State ticket. The politicians know it."

Frederic B. Bennett, Jr., the Republican candidate for Congress in the Lynn-Lynn District, is among the most earnest advocates of the anti-saloon cause. He has been the most earnest advocate of the anti-saloon cause in the State Legislature, having voted in the State Legislature against a bill prohibiting commercial saloons from corporations.

The 175th session of the Legislature has also endorsed Joseph Gray for a place on the general ticket. There is a growing sentiment for a wholesale prohibition in Springfield.

Where Did I Get It?
Oh, Friend Finnegan
Just Gave It to Me

An answer is found at last to that awkward question, "Where did you get it?" The answer is—

"FINNEGAN GAVE IT TO ME." This answer is a by-product of the Boston-Bumstead case in New York city. When Becker gave out a long explanation from his cell in the Tombs to the Manhattan reporters, he said, among other things, that John Finnegan gave Mrs. Becker $15,000. This was to account for the money Becker had, alleged to be police graft. Becker declared that John Finnegan was a friend of Mrs. Becker's family and that he gave Mrs. Becker money from time to time and even left her more at his death. The total, said Becker, was $15,000.

"Finnegan gave it to me," has passed into current talk. It is the great explanation for anything that brings one under suspicion.

An elevator sports a $5,000 auto—"Finnegan gave it to me." Police chips found in John Hunsan's pocket—"Finnegan gave them to me."

A gentleman's signature in a letter—"Finnegan gave it to me."

It's the new life-boiler for the Boston case.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The pope has just written an approving letter to Dr. Petak, his leading physician, who died recently. He says Dr. Petak was the most capable physician, a good man, and his death, therefore, a great loss to the church.

Auto News

By J. C. KERRISON.
J. M. Linscott of the Linscott Motor Car Company has been confined to the hospital since last Friday, when he underwent an operation for appendicitis. The operation was successful, and Mr. Linscott is reported on the road to recovery.

Sales Manager H. L. Wilcox of the General Motor Truck Company is spending a few days in Boston as the guest of New England Manager M. E. Struble. Mr. Wilcox says the truck industry was never so prosperous as it is today, and that his company is working overtime and still unable to keep up with orders. In speaking about the New England branch, Mr. Wilcox said:

"In this section of the country we have made most excellent headway, having proved the efficiency and reliability of our vehicle, with the result that we are today away ahead of all previous years."

The tendency of the man in the street to select his own cause for a thing which the maker wanted to call something else has compelled the International Rubber Company of Akron to incorporate the unusual word "queague" as part of the name of its safety tread tire. When this tire was introduced some a year ago because of the company's advertising stated that the word was like a sponge. Immediately people all over the country began to ask dealers for the "queague tire."

There were so many of these persons who called the tire makers, though still believing their own, "safety tread," a far better name, decided to meet other tire makers half-way by incorporating the word "queague" in the original name.

Recent visitors to the Boston branch of the Goodfry Tire & Rubber Company were L. C. Rockhill, manager of the automobile tire department of the factory at Akron, O., and R. B. Preston, manager of the automotive goods department of the factory.

Mr. Rockhill has just completed a tour of the Atlantic coast branches, and reports active business in Goodfry's automobile tires, especially during the present month.

Try This on Your Husband—if He Drinks
It Makes New Men of Drunkards
And Homes Happy

The woman whose husband is a habitual drinker is a martyr—a slave and a victim. The whole family suffers, and sometimes more. Why not cure him? Renova has secretly cured hundreds of good men whose drink was dragging them down to destruction. Renova costs much less than the poison sold in barrooms and Renova rescues men who have been drunkards for years.

Just do this—go to Riker-Jaynes and ask for a package of Renova; put a little of it in his tea or coffee and he won't know anything about it because it is tasteless. The first thing you know he'll be drinking less and less until he just hates the stuff. Wonder, full, isn't it? But sure. Two hundred men in one town saved by Renova.

If you'd like to try it—free—before you buy a whole package, write in confidence to the Renova Co., 204 Broadway, New York, for a sample and proof of what Renova does for victims of intemperance.

Few College Girls Seek Divorces

Marry at 28, Is Dean Davies' Advice

Declares Her Statistics Prove That Higher Education Makes for Good Wives.

MISS CAROLINE DAVIES

Some Women Have No Fear for Higher Education, She Says

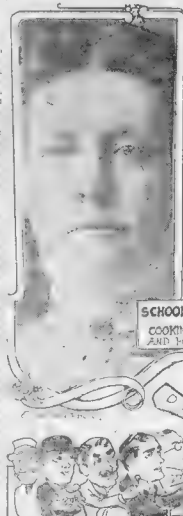

BY ELIZABETH ELLIOTT

It is not surprising that the statistics of the American divorce courts show that the majority of divorces are granted to women who have not received a college education. This is the conclusion reached by Miss Caroline Davies, dean of the college of education at the University of Wisconsin, in a paper read before the American Educational Association at its annual meeting in New York City last week.

Miss Davies, who is a woman of 28, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and has been in the college of education for several years. She is a woman of average height and build, with dark hair and a pleasant expression. She is dressed in a simple, dark dress, and is wearing a white collar and cuffs.

She said that she had found that the women who had received a college education were more likely to be good wives and mothers than those who had not. She said that the college education gave them a better understanding of their own minds and of the world around them, and that this made them more capable of handling the responsibilities of marriage and motherhood.

Crawford Ranges

The Single Damper is a simple and unassum-ing name for a wonderful invention; probably the most important improvement ever made in cooking stoves. It is operated by one movement of a knob upon the top at the back of the range.
This knob has three plainly marked locations,
"Kindle," "Bake" and "Check." Slide the knob to the proper point and the range does the rest.
Simplicity itself and absolutely sure.

The Single Damper does but one movement yet that one movement makes the fire and also the oven heat and does it better than can be done with two dampers; damper mistakes are impossible. All other stoves than the Crawford have two dampers and some have more, but the twodamper ranges are confusing. You never know when the dampers are exactly right.

The Ash Hod instead of the clumsy ash pan is another Crawford trouble saver.

Men Still Pull the Plow

Chinese farmers, still using the place of horseless or gasoline and pulling the plow in the shadow of the Great Wall.

Today the Chinese are tilling the soil in the same primitive fashion and with the same antiquated implements that their forefathers used hundreds of years ago.

Turning forty furrows at a time and sowing and harvesting as it goes, a gasoline motor propelled plow in Kansas travels at twice the speed of the man-power plow marking its single puny scratch in the earth.

People are too numerous and consequently too cheap in China. There are upwards of five hundred millions of them and ninety per cent. depend on rice, eked out with fish, for a miserable sustenance.

Veneration of ancestors, which makes the Chinese willing to yoke himself to his plow because his father did it before him, robs the people of ambition and makes them distrustful of modern labor-saving inventions.

Do You Know That—

Throughout the world the total number of human Catholics is estimated at 240,000,000.

Great Britain uses 4,000,000 bales of raw cotton every year.

In Ireland every man and woman over the age of twenty-five is allowed a vote, and women are eligible for office under the State.

Under certain conditions local authorities in Prussia are permitted to tax incomes below $200 a year.

In the Dominion of Canada out of the 24,000-mile railway, the government owns over 17,000.

Dead food for the purpose of leveling water, the treadmill is the invention of the Chinese.

Available for bottled water in Oregon there are fifteen million acres of lands of all classes.
